THE LASER & SKIN SURGERY CENTER of Northern California

Speaking with Dr. Kilmer, you'll quickly discover the immense knowledge and passion that goes into her work. After attending Saratoga High School, Dr. Kilmer began her higher education at the University of California, Los Angeles, and later transferred to the University of California, Davis. While at Davis, she was accepted into medical school, and bought a little home in East Sacramento.

While in med school to become a neurosurgeon, Dr. Kilmer took a dermatology rotation and fell in love. She was fascinated with the way each problem seemed to be a puzzle she could solve, and realized that she could help so many different types of people through this line of work. During her second year of dermatology, lasers were emerging as a means of treatment, and Dr. Kilmer went on to train with one of the pioneers of lasers, R. Rox Anderson at Harvard University.

During her time at Harvard, Dr. Kilmer was involved in several groundbreaking clinical trials utilizing a variety of skin lasers. When she opened her business in 1993, her goal was to help others with the latest technology in her field.

Her passion for dermatology is evident. She has been able to help many patients live happier lives.

The Laser & Skin Surgery Center of Northern California employs over forty-five people, many of which are East Sac residents, and is one of the world's most comprehensive laser centers. Dr. Kilmer leads a team of five dermatologists and a nurse practitioner. She divides her time between working at the center, conducting clinical trials, serving on several medical device boards for laser device companies, and international speaking engagements.

The center is a leader in conducting FDA clinical trials on an ongoing basis, making it a one stop shop for countless services. Services such as hair removal, tattoo removal, wrinkles, scars, sun spots, and much more.

The Laser & Skin Surgery Center utilizes cutting edge technology, education, and a phenomenal staff to create an outstanding customer experience. The friendly doctors and staff are committed to producing the best outcome possible for each patient.
